See To-Day's Evening World.

WORLD Lead Over Other Three, 364

PRICE ONE CENT.

PRICE ONE CENT.

OUT IN 40 CIGAR FACTORIES. THE CUBAN HAVANA WORKERS RESIST AN

OLD REDUCTION. It Is the Busiest Season of the Year and They Seize the Opportunity to Insist on Former Rates. Three Firms Already Concede the Demands and the Strikers

Are Confident of a Victory All Round.

All the cigar-makers employed in forty Havana cigar manufactories in this city went on strike to-day against a reduction of $2 per 1,000 which the bosses made eighteen months

The strikers are mostly Cubans, with a a sprinkling of Americans and Spaniards. Their work is all hand-made and brings the best prices in the market. For the past year and a half prices; for making Havana cigars have ranged from $16 to $40 per 1,000 and the strikers want the figures raised to the old rates of from $18 to $42 per 1,000.

The strikers have no permanent organization, and, singularly enough, say that when they had two independent unions they were beaten and forced to accept a reduction, but without any permanent organization-only a temporary one for the occasion—they have succeeded in maintaining the prices they de-mand; and that is the course they are now pursuing, with every confidence that they

This is a busy season in the manufacturing This is a busy season in the manufacturing business, and the strikers say the firms must yield in a short time. Three firms—Blas Trujillo, of 105 Maiden lane: Honda, of 78 William street and Lopez, at John and Pearl streets, have announced their intention to streets, have announced their intention to grant the strikers' demands and restore the old rates.

The largest firm in the trade is that of Lozano, Pendas & Co. in Pearl street, who employ 100 hands. Other leading firms are Rodriguez & Garcia, Biga & Garcia, E. Cor dero & Bro. and the Starlight Manufacturing Company.

Company.

Over 1,000 hands are out. The manufacturers cannot obtain men here skilful enough to take the places of the men now out.

DIED IN HYDROPHOBIC CONVULSIONS. Save John Storms.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 18.-John Storms, who was bitten by a pet spaniel at his home in this city ten days ago, died of hydrophobia in the City Hospital at 10 o'clock this morn-

The man's end was agonizing in the ex-

The man's end was agonizing in the extreme, and those who were about his cot, unable to witness his horrible convulsions, had to turn away their heads.

Storms's wound was in the thumb, and when first given was apparently so insignificant as to cause the victim no particular anxiety.

When in the hospital the Rev. Father Curran, of the Catholic Church of the Holy Rosary, took a deep interest in Storms's case and induced the doctors to allow him to try an original method of administering steam baths to the patient.

The good priest had great faith in this sweating process, and hoped to save the man's life, but under it the convulsions became more frequent and more violent. Father Curran was present at the death-bed scene.

THE REMAINS WEIGHED 700 POUNDS.

A Manitoba Half-Breed Finds the Body o His Wife Petrified.

TEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 18. - Sixteen years go a half-breed named Rolade buried his wife twenty miles from this city. A few days ago he exhumed the remains intending to convey them to another burying-place.

Upon opening the coffin the body was found to be perfectly preserved, the eyes and mouth being partly open and the nair quite black and natural. An attempt being made to lift the remains it was found quite impossible as they were completely petrified.

An examination showed that a small spring An examination showed that a small spring of alkali water had been running through the coffin, and the action of the water on the re-mains caused petrifaction.

Assistance was procured and the remains were raised to the surface and brought to this city, where they were weighed. The weight was found to be 700 pounds.

MRS. HARRIMAN WILL MOVE.

The Scandal Surrounding Kitty Cody's Death Induces This Decision.

The funeral of Kitty Cody-Dudgeon, the young girl who died in Brooklyn, a victim to her own folly, was set for to-day, and her body was taken to Locust Valley last night.

Arrangements were made to have the inter ment take place in the Codys' family plot in ment take place in the Codys ramily plot in the cemetery as early as possible. Capt. Kenny's detectives are still working on the case, but have learned nothing new. Mrs. Harriman, at whose house the Cody girl died, says that on account of the scanda she is going to move to other quarters.

RH

W-

200

EXECUTIVE BOARDS NEGOTIATING.

They Visit Street-Car Company Presidents While Waiting to Tie Up.

The Executive Boards of D. A. 75 and Division No. 1 of 226 are still negotiating with some of the street-car companies for a signing of agreements on the basis of the new

There is no prospect of an immediate tic-up of any of the lines, but, as a leading Knight put it, "wait until the snow flies."

Trying to Get a Pardon for Gould,

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 18.-There is now and always has been, in this town a good deal of sympathy for William E. Gould, now of the Phomaston State Prison, though previously cashier of the First National Bank of Portland. son-in-law of Neal Dow, brother-in-law of Speaker Fred N. Dow, of the House of Repre-sentatives, at Augusta, and so on. Almon A. Stout and others are circulating petitions for Mr. Gould's pardon. The petitions to President Cleveland bear the names of aimost all the Port-land men who are now in Augusta.

> Mrs. Smith Went to England, ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, !

DEDHAM, Mass., Jan. 18,-Last September Mrs. Sarah Smith, a widow of sixty, disappeared from her home in Curve street, where she lived with her son and his family. She left home in the morning, as the inmates thought, for a short walk. She was attired in her everyday wearing apparal. Mr. Smith has received the joyful tidings that his mother is alive and well. She is in England. She gives no reason for leaving her home so mysteriously.

MISSING ANDREW COATES.

His Mind Was Possibly Affected by the Death of Ills Niece.

Ex-Supervisor Andrew P. Coates, of the Fifth Ward, Brooklyn, has been missing from his home since Jan. 7, and although he had many friends, no one has reported his disappearance to the police.

He kept a liquor store on the corner of Bridge and Sands streets and lived at No. 51 in the latter street. Michal Claucy, his partner, is the engineer of the County Court-House.

The last seen of Mr. Coates was on Sunday evening, Jan. 6. He was standing on the corner in front of his salcon when John Carey, with whom he bearded, stopped and talked with him. Mr. Carey said that Coates was always neat

Mr. Carey said that Coates was always neat in his appearance, and although he drank he never became intoxicated. The cause of the ex-Supervisor's disappearance was a mystery, but perhaps his mind might have become affected over the death of a favorite niece, which occurred six weeks ago.

Partner Claney would say nothing as to the truth or falsity of a rumor that the missing man had taken some of his money away with him, but expressed a belief that Coates would turn up in a few days.

Coates is thirty-six years old, short, fat and of light complexion. He had a heavy sandy mustache.

JUNKERMANN IN A NEW PLAY.

Remarkable Success at the Amberg Theatre of Play and Player.

German play entitled "Unser Doctor, which has had a great run in Berlin, was pro duced last night at the Amberg Theatre, with Herr August Junkermann, the famous German comedian, as Gast. It is a popular play, inter persed with songs, is in four acts, and its authors are L. Treptow and L. Hermann. Herr Junkermann has hitherto during his "Gastspiel "provoked more laughter than tears. Last night the audience had to try to laugh away its tears—to wipe them away mobserved—for the play had situations in it of intense emotion, and these were given with that marvellous simplicity and truthfulness over which only the greatest actors have command.

these were given with that marvellous simplicity and truthfulness over which only the greatest actors have command.

The story is one of simple life in Germany. An old man. Lebrecht, has gained a comfortable competency, and has sent his only non to study at the University, with the object that he shall pass his examination and begin life as a doctor. The first act shows the son, Paul, in apartments in the capital, where he has been led into extravagance by his student friend, Fritz Sturmer. While the twain, after many amusing scenes, are lamenting their impecunious condition Paul's father arrives, and as a matter of course sand is successfully thrown in his eyes about his son's progress in his studies, and when an official document is brought in informing Paul that he is expelled from the University, Sturmer interrets it to the father as a diploma conferring upon his boy the long-expected title of M. D.

The first act is full of amusing situations, too long here to tell about. The second act opens at the house of Paul's father, the old gentleman and his wife, with the daughter of a sea captain, being the occupants of the house. The father is delighted with his son's prospects, so much so that he sings a couplet song to the audience which has the refrain "Ale Liebe rostet nicht" (old love never dies). The seene which follows is of marvellous power in its dramatic simplicity. The sins of Faul are revealed to the old man, who, not wishing that the mother should know anything of the boy's debts and disgrace, and of the deception he has played upon him, takes the opportunity when the mother is out of the room to fell his son to go forth into the world—out to the new German-African colonies—to retrieve his past, life. The departure is ingeniously done. During dinner the old man has told the story of the son of a friend of his who had disgraced himself and was just about leaving on board a ship for Africa with just the clothes he stands up in. The old lady, her heart filled with pity, determines to send the unfortunat mother and Fatheriand, his mother knowing nothing of his guit.

The scene as it was presented produced an immense effect. There was nothing exaggerated; there were no attempts at great dramatic situations—nothing but absolute naturalness—and the audience was strongly and deeply moved. Herr Junkermann was admirably supported by Mr. Amberg's company. Herr Lube appeared in a totally different character to that in which Thalia audiences knew him, and played the role. in a totally different character to that in which Thalia audiences knew him, and played the role of Rentier Munmel admirably. Frl. Grosse was Student Paul's mother and played with delight ful simplicity. Herr Rank was exceedingly amusing as a teacher of dancing, and, in fact, the entire company was seen at its best. Herr Junkermann's rôle was, of course, the prominent one, but he never forgot himself so far as to play anything but Father Lebrecht. It was a great play, beautifully acted, and it will doubties appear in good time in English dress with some Anglo-Saxon name as its author.

Wealth Made Brothers Disagree. Referee Poindexter Smith yesterday heard estimony in the suit brought by the four Viemeister brothers to compel their oldest brother, Louis C. Viemeister, to render an accounting of his stewardship over the estate of counting of his stewardship over the estate of their father, who died in 1870, leaving three valuable petes of downtown property to his five sons. Mr. Viemeister was a prominent Seventh Ward German.

Recently the younger brothers became dissatisfied with their brother's management of their inheritance, and the Surrogate ordered the executor to file his account preparatory to dividing what there is left of the estate equally among the heirs, the father having died without making a will.

Charles P. Holm, the counsel for the heirs, says that some of the charges against the estate by the elder brother are excessive and unjust, and he is trying to save all he can for the children, who are still minors. The estate originally was worth about $75,000.

Fire in a Piano Factory. Fire broke out in the piano manufactory of A Hotel Seized by the Sheriff.

A posse of Sheriff's officers called at the Hotel

Adelphi, on the corner of Sixth avenue and Twenty-eighth street, yesterday, and without notifying the people at the hotel office pro-

Cure Your Catarrh, or Get $500.

Behning & Sons, Nos. 157 and 159 East On Hundred and Twenty-eighth street, yesterday the Mails for Smuggling. fternoon. An alarm was sent out, and the employees working on the upper floor of the employees working on the upper floor of the building were warned of the danger. There was no excitement and no one was hurt. The room was well filled with the wood, which was as dry as tinder, and had there been any exit for the smoke or any draught the building would have probably been burned down. The flames were quickly extinguished by the firemen, who experienced considerable difficulty in getting a stream through the brick wall which lined the room. The damage to the building amounted to about $1,000 and $3,000 to the goods in the piano-room. een discovered.

She has been having packages addressed to her, apparently at various post-offices throughout the country, containing laces and expensive embroderies. One of these pack-ages was discovered at Friendsville, Pa.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Isaac H. Bromley retires ceeded upstairs and, knocking at all the doors, notified the guests to leave the hotel at once. William M. Ernst is the lessee of the house and the police are just now trying to learn his whereabouts. John Paisley is the owner of the property and it is thought that upon his orders the Sheriff's men took possession of the hotel. Ernst is behind in his rent and is said to have collected considerable money in advance from guests and occupants of basements and stands about the hotel. For many years the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Carasins Remery, who are thoroughly responsible, financially, as any one can cashly ascertain by proper inquiry, have offered, in good faith, through nearly every newspaper in the land, a standing reward of $5.00 for a case of nasa catarrh, no matter how bad, or of how long standing, which they cannot cure. The Remery, which is sold by druggists at only 50 cents, is mild, soothing, cleansing, antiseptic and healing.

Warden O'Rourke Congratulated. To-day being the fourteenth anniversary of Warden James F. O'Rourke's installation as Warden of Bellevue Hospital, he is very busy re-

BLACK SHEEP IN THE ALLEY. IDENTIFYING THEIR OWN.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1889.

MANY VICTIMS OF BURGLARIES CALLED AT THEY HAD LONG TROUBLED THE HONEST POLICE HEADQUARTERS TO-DAY.

Claimants for Much of the Property Selzed in Connection with the Arrest of Two Desperate Negro Burglars-The Pretty Mulatto Sweetheart of One of the Pris-

There has been a constant stream of visitors at Police Headquarters to-day, and they have inspected a van load of clothing, jowelry and other valuables seized in a house where lived two desperate burglars and the sweeteart of one of them.

The callers had also taken a look at the ourglars themselves in a sub-cellar cell. The two burglars and the sweetheart make up the three mysterious prisoners who were bundled into Police Headquarters by the rear entrance Monday night. They are George Taylor, alias Freeman Tilghman, all of whom lived at 128 West Twenty-seventh street. They are all colored people. Taylor was the pal of William Dorsey, the mulatto second-story burglar who is now serving a sentence of twenty years at Sing Sing for robbing Banker Matthew Morgan's house in Lexington avenue, in November, 1887, when alias Foster; Jennie Webster and Frank

he carried off $20,000 worth of diamonds. Taylor is a dangerous man, always prepared to kill, if necessary, when on an expedition. Detictives O'Brien and McCauley caught him at the Twenty-eighth street station of the Third Avenue Elevated Road. He whipped out a bulldog revolver at McCauley. but a blow from O'Brien's fist on his jugular brought him to earth, and he was soon after locked in a cell at Headquarters, Tilghman, a burly negro, who was Taylor's outside man" in many midnight burglaries in Jersey City, Newark, Elizabeth and other Jersey towns, was picked up an hour later in the West Twenty-seventh street house, and Jennie Webster, who is a charm-ingly pretty little mulatto of twenty years and the mistress of Taylor, was found there also.

From the rooms of the trio was taken the plunder now lying in the museum. It con sists of the following:

sists of the foliowing:

A silver cup marked May, a small silver tray, an old-fashioned beaded purse with "T. H. Simon" engraved on the silde, a pair of large silver bracelets, two pairs of jet and gold bracelets, one jet pendant in form of a sunburst, a pair of crape bintions, a crape bar pin, siet beaded and gold bracelet, silver inniget lace pins, three gold pencils, a silver thimble in a box marked. "H. B.," a fancy gold bracelet, a plain gold wire bracelet, two Japanese leather pocketbooks, two pairs of turquoise carrings, a gold and hair breastpin, a silver breastpin in the shape of a satchel, a lizard design silver breastpin set in diamonds, a lace pin set with three diamonds, two gold safety pins, a lot of plain and ornamental gold finger rings, some old coins and a child's pearl necklace.

Among the callers this morning was John

Among the callers this morning was John B. Johnson, of 371 Pleasant avenue. His house was entered Jan. 6, at midnight, and be identified as his own an overcoat which Taylor wore when arrested.

Albert and Clarence Lippman, who lived next door, and who lost by burglary the next door, and who lost by burglary the same night an overcost, a lady!s seal cloak and other things, found none of their property. Mrs. Lippman was awakened by the burglar and saw him pass her bed. She says he was a colored man, but is unable to identication.

tify either of the prisoners.
Dr. Lyons, of One Hundred and Sixteenth street, between Second and Third avenue, had his house burglarized Dec. 15 at 3 o'clock in the morning. He lost two watches, an overcoat and silverware valued at $400, but he lound none of it in the museum. Nor was S. A. Elkington, who lost English clothing and a roll of $112 on the same night, any

J. C. Freeman, of 156 West Twenty-third street, found his missing ulster to be the one worn by Tilghman when arrested, and Jewel-ler Chaupenois, of 5 Maiden lane, identified ter Chaupenois, of 5 Madean lane, identified a handsome gold and silver bracelet, a gold watch and chain and several gold pens as those stolen from his house, 32 Gillet place, Newark, on the night of Jan. 5. Frank Spingamin, of 7 Madison avenue, Jersey City, recognized an overcoat stolen from his nouse in November.

It is believed that the prisoners had some thing to do with the assault upon Broker Daniel H. Bennett at 130½ Forrest avenue, Daniel H. Bennett at 130½ Forrest avenue, Jersey City, but Inspector Byrnes denies that he has anything like convincing evidence of their guilt in this case, in which, for a time, suspicion was placed upon Augustus Bennett, a son of the assaulted man.

Inspector Byrnes declares that he has evidence against 4 Taylor and Tilghman to convict them of enough burglaries to send than to Sure Sing for sirty years.

them to Sing Sing for sixty years apiece, but he has notified the authorities in several Jersey cities of their arrest and will probably hear more things.

The men will be arraigned before Justice O'Reilly at Essex Market Police Court late this afternoon and meantime identifying parties are accumulating evidence against the prisoners by claiming various articles in the collection found in the rooms of Jennie Webster, who seems to have acted as fence to her male friends.

SHE'S A MYSTERIOUS LADY.

The Mrs. Heap, Who Is Suspected of Using

Collector Magone, who is investigating the case of Mrs. G. W. Heap, the widow of a former United States Conqui, who is suspected of smuggling goods into this country through the mails, said to-day that nothing further had been learned of the whereabouts of this mysterious lady, and he would not tell whether any more smuggled goods had from the office of assistant to the President of the Union Pacific on the 1st of March. Mr. Bromley's duties in this position, which he has held for the past four years, have been chiefly in connection with the effort to procure a settle-ment of the question between the Company and the Government. It having been decided that no further effort in this direction will be made after the present Congress, the department heretofore in Mr. Bromley's charge will be dis-continued.

ceiving the congratulation of friends. The War-den is proud of the fact that he has never been before the Commissioners on any charge, and has never been absent from post excepting dur-ing vacation.

BOYS IN THE NEWSBOY FLOCK.

Timely Raid Has Now Thinned Then Out and the Lately Oppressed Victims Are Relieved. The Captured Offenders Will Spend Various Periods of Time at the Workhouse on the Island.

Theatre alley, in the rear of THE WORLL building, is daily the rendezvous of an army of newsboys, big and little, white and black. When they have sold their morning Worlds they beguile the time until The EVENING WORLD is turned from the presses in playing crap, pitching pennies and racing through the alley.

The great majority of the lads are honest and aid their families materially with the proceeds of their sales. But there are black sheep among them, as in every other flock. These are some of the biggest boys. They are too lazy to go out with papers, but waylay the smaller lads and relieve them of their lay the smaller lads and relieve them of their hardly won pennies.

The smaller boys' plaints became so loud against their habitual despoilers that Charles Monahau, of the Mail and Delivery Department of The Won.p. and John D. Hadwin, the janitor, determined to help the newsboys to get rid of their persecutors.

As a result of their endeavors, two of the blackest sheep, James Smith, aged twentyone, and William Owen, nineteen, were sentenced at the Tombs Police Court this morning to six long months at the Blackwell's Island Workhouse.

They were both colored. Joseph Mulvey,

They were both colored. Joseph Mulvey,

Island Workhouse.

They were both colored. Joseph Mulvey, aged fourteen; Morris Simpson, sixteen, and David Adelson, fifteen, will each stay up the river for one month.

Justice Gorman discharged James Smith. Thomas McGee, William McMahon and Michael Donovan upon the representation of Mr. Monahan that they were less guilty than the others.

William May, aged fourteen, was turned over to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, his parents both being dead and the boy inclined to be wild.

The boys were corralled vesterday afterneon at 4.30 by Officers Collum, McCarthy, McCrory, Weidmeyer, Smith and Jackson, from the Oak street station, under the guidance of Roundsman Wilbur.

They spent the night in the station-house and were very wild and disorderly.

When arraigned at the bar of the police court their demeanor was hardened in the extreme, and after their sentences were nronounced they left the court-room laughing and joking.

nounced they left the cohrt-room language and joking.

The charge was that of creating a disturbance of the public peace.

The raid had its good effect, for not a black sheep boy was to be seen in the alley this morning, and the honest and business-like boys were correspondingly happy.

APPRAISER STEARNS IS RETICENT.

A Strong Rumor of a Movement Towards the Reappointment of McMullin. Acting Appraiser Stearns was more reticent than usual this morning in regard to his doings at the Laight street stores, but he finally, however, denied that he intended to make any recommendations for removal at present, and declared that he did not think any removals would be made this week.

When asked if he had anything to say in reference to the report that a permanent successor to Mr. McMullen would soon be appointed, he said:

'I have no information on the subject, but I do not think that the present Administration will make any such appointment."

He added that he would continue the investigation of the various divisions of his department as his time permittel, for he was very busy now with the routine work of his office.

There was a good deal of comment to-day upon the rumor that an effort would be made to have Mr. McMullen reappointed to his old position by the incoming Administration.

"There is no doubt that such a movement is on foot among the merchants of this city who have dealings with the Appraiser's office." said a Custom-House official this morning. "It is supplemented by a similar movement in Washingten, and it is certain that Mr. McMullen has very strong backing influential quarters. At the Appraiser's office you will find there is not one man in ten who would not like to see him back again."

JAY GOULD MUST GO SOUTH.

Trip Is Necessary, the Doctors Say, to Recuperate His Health.

By the advice of his physician, Dr. J. P. Munn, Jay Gould will take a short trip through the South to recuperate his failing health, caused by long vigils at his wife's bedside, the loss of sleep added to malarial trouble having almost prostrated him.

His private car is being put in readiness, and if proper arrangements can be made he will leave to-morrow morning or in the fore part of next week.

His younger children will accompany bim on the trip, which will include a brief stop at White Sulphur Springs in Virginia. The doctors say that nothing serious is to be apprehended from the state of Mr. Gould's health, but that a long rest will be necessary in order to restore him to his former con-

Thieves of Time in the Bowery. Peter Keane, of 317 Bowery, snatched a watch from Edward Winneh, of 7 Second street, when the latter obliged him with the time of night, in the Bowery. Held for trial at Essex Market.
John McDonald, 133 Cherry street, snatched the watch of John Mundler. of Williamsburg, when the latter ignored his request for a contribution towards a night's lodging, in the Bowery. Held in $1,500 bonds at Essex Market.

Washee Washee in the Flames. Quong Wah's laundry, at 126 West Twentysixth street, caught fire at 3 o'clock this morning, supposedly from a spark from the stove Quong Wah and his assistants were very much frightend, but not hurt except in their posses-sions. The damage was about $500.

Dr. MacDonald Is Restored. Dr. Alexander MacDonald, the noted insanity expert, upon whom an afternoon paper lately made a most malicious attack, has recovered from his severe illness and is again ready to assume his duties. His vigor, both of body and mind, has been completely restored.

Tenth District Tummanyites. The Tammany Hall District Committee of the Tenth Assembly District has elected the following officers: John F. Ward, Chairman: Henry Jacobs, Secretary; Thomas Clarke, Treasurer.

Resignation of Chief Justice Simson. IBY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION. LEIPZIO, Jan. 17 .- Dr. Simson, President of the Supreme Court, has resigned after protest-ing against the strictures of Prince Bismarck.

If She Is Here, She Is Keeping Pretty Well Out of Sight.

528 of the Penal Code. Is Taking Money for Fake Seances the

Said to Have Violated Section

Same as False Pretenses ? Mr. Carroll's Very Interesting Work or Spiritualism.

FAN AND ANN.

Priestess Fan is now ahead, Medium Ann has second place; Two believers were well bled In this little spirit race.

Medium Ann built pictures old; Priestess Fan did spirits wed; Both Ann and Fan were very bold While they both believers bled.

Very stout is Medium Ann. Ann and Fan are both well fed; Growing stout is Priestess Fan; It was for this believers bled.

And didn't like 'em, it is said. Will Priestess Fan these same stripes don ? Well, it all depends. Ann got her stripes secures she not only "believers bled," but talked about it. Fan is mum as an oyster.

Therein her mediumistic hend is level. But yet it all depends. Perhaps section 528,

Medium Ann striped gowns has worn, chapter 4, of the Penal Code may still apply. At any rate we are sorry for Tobias. "Prithee, fair maid, is the Rev. Mrs.

Stryker at home?" An Evening World young man put the uestion in all seriousness this morning to the maid who answered his summons at the outer door of the apartments occupied by Spook Priestess Fanny Stryker, in the Lenox Hill flat house, No. 987 Madisan avenue.

"Aye she is indeed but she will see thee not," responded the girl. "And why, pray?" "Because, good sir, she will have naught to lo with reporters." "Indeed, and how know you that I am reporter?" "Alack a day, sir, I know thee well, because none but reporters come here nowadays." "But she will see me. Hasten, pretty one, and tell her that an 'investigator awaits at the portals, anxious to learn some thing of Spiritualism, of which he has seen much in the newspapers of late," Reluctantly the girl went on her mission, returning a few seconds later with the tidings : "My mistress fears you are a reporter, and as I foretold thee, wilt not see or be seen."

Then the reporter asked for Tobias, Fan's husband,
"He warned me early that he was out to all

"Is Mr. Carroll at home?"
"Nay. Some time since he hastened away to his stationery store on Fourteenth Just then a terrific ring of a bell inside made the girl jump and say:
"Adieu, gentle stranger. My mistress must want me. ' IS THE PRIESTESS IN TOWN?

Is the priestess in town?

The Evenino World young man thought so too, that is, if Fanny was there at all, which some people doubt. Since the expose of her dealings with Mr. Carroll she has not been seen in or about the house.

At least that is what the elevator boy in the building says. He declares that he has been postered to death by people inquiring for her, but that they have had to go away without seeing her, being told she was not at home. She has not been near the Electric Medical College, which she had attended daily, since Tuesday.

They do not expect her back either. It is the growing belief that she has become frightened thinking of Ann O'D.'s fate, and that she has quietly slipped out of town.

Although the reporter went from her flat direct to Stationer Carroll's place of business, at 36 East Fourteenth street, this morning, he could not find that gentleman there. ness, at 36 East Fourteenth street, this morning, he could not find that gentleman there, this clerks said he had not been down yet.

Neither was he at his lawyer's office, No. 71 Broadway. The lawyer was not there either. A pretty lady clerk said she did not think Mr. Carroll or Mr. Levy would discuss the matter any more, any how.

"Why?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, because. That is the worst of saying a world to you reporters. You always want to a word to you reporters. You always want to know why or what for. I won't say another word. There now."

IS SHE AMENABLE TO THE LAW? The youthful inquirer tottered away, and went to see a prominent lawyr to learn whether Mrs. Stryker has really done anything that might lead to her arrest and incarceration on the island.

"Certainly she has," he answered, when "Certainly she has," he answered, when the question was put to him, "Her convic-tion could be secured as easily as Diss De Bar's was, if Mr. Carroll, or, in fact, any one who paid a cent at one of her spiritual scances, should come forward and make a complaint scenes her.

against her, "Under what section of the Code?" asked the reporter.

'Chapter 4, section 528, which treats of obtaining money under false protenses, and so forth, as follows:

THE LAW ON IT.

A person who with the intent to deprive or defraud the true owner of his property, or of the use and benefit thereof, or to appropriate the same to the use of the taker, or of any other person, either takes from the possession of the true owner, or of any other person, or obtains from such, possession by color or aid of frandulent or false representation or pretense, or of any false token or writing or secrets withholds or appopriates to his own use or that of any personal property, thing if action, evidence of debt or contract, or article of value of any kind.

"Now," said the logal light, "I think Mrs. Stryker comes withing the scope of that sec-

Stryker comes withing the scope of that sec-tion. She has undoubted y procured large sums of money from Mr. Carroll and others by means of false representations and must have known that she was making fraudulent statements to him.

"Especially was this so in the case where she induced the misguided man to believe that she married his son in spirit land, and the subsequent birth of the spirit child. IT RESTS WITH CARROLL'S PRIENDS.

"If RESTS WITH CARROLL'S FRIENDS.
"If Mr. Carroll has any friends, they should go forth and have her indicted and sent to trial," he concluded.

At the District-Attorney's office an assistant said that as yet no steps had been taken towards indicting the priestess, but that action would be taken as promptly as in the case of Ann O'Delia, if any persons should come forward to make the complaint with proper evidence.

MIL CARROLL'S BOOK ON SPIRITUALISM. The most interesting piece of information gleaned of late about the curious case is the fact that Mr. Carroll or Mrs. Stryker or both together wrote a book, which was published in 1884 under the title, "Telephonic Messages from the Spirit World—The Vacant Chair by Morning Star."

In the front of the book are the initials G.

D. C.
Mr. Carroll's dead son is called in Spiritdom, or so Mrs. Stryker says—Morning Star.
The book goes on to state that "a Spiritualist once is a Spiritualist forever, and that Morning Star's father was a sceptic, as was Morning Star himself, prior to his transition."

tion."

After that he got to know the truth and so did " Pop," or the latter thinks he did. did "Pop," or the latter thinks he did.

The facts in the book are alleged to have been communicated to "Pop" by Clifford, and transcribed verbatim by "Pop" through the mediumistic prowess of the Rev. Mrs. T. B. Stryker, better known now as Priestes Fan.

She is represented as being the instrument of the joyful spirit band of which Morning Star is a member.

MUST BE A JOLLY LOT. They must be a jolly lot, because Clifford has sent word that he has his horses and yacht and other essentials of a gay life just as when he did the grand on this mundane subers. EIGHT OTHER SPIRITS IN HIS PLATSON.

According to the book he has eight other spirits in his platoon.

Their business is the application of the great fundamental law of love on earth. An old chappic called Father Guide rules the roost, and some of his lieutenants are Wisdom, Kisgar, Hebron, The Least of the Band Lady Lotta Bright Eyes, Truth and last, but not least, Morning Star, formerly Clifford Carroll. MORNING STAR'S LETTERS.

MORNING STAR'S LETTERS.

There are a number of letters in the book purporting to have been written by Morning Star to his "Pop," in which he describes his transition from this world to the next on the day he died.

They contain the usual medium cant.

There are some letters from Bright Eyes, in which she promises to make it all right if Mrs. Stryker fixes it so that she can have Morning Star all for her own.

BE LIBERAL, SAYS MORNING STAR.

Morning Star, in nearly every one of his letters from spiritdom, advises Mr. Carroll that it is mean to hoard money, and suggests the purchase of bric-a-brac, pictures, dresses and other things for Mrs. Stryker.

In one letter, dated Aug. 2, 1884, the meanest reference is made, wherein it is stated that Mr. Carroll is bearing one of the heaviest burdens that nature could impose upon a man—referring, of course, to Mrs. Carroll's mental condition.

FAN GOOD AT DISSECTING.

FAN GOOD AT DISSECTING. At the Eelectic College, which she attended, Mrs. Stryker had made many friends. It is at No. 1 Livingston place. Her college mates were of the impression that she was a Metho-On one occasion when Spiritualism was under discussion she spoke strongly against it. The cost of her tuntion there so far has amounted to nearly $200. She was considered an unusually bright and promising pupil, and was particularly apt in the dissecting-room.

HERE'S ANOTHER SUIT. The pale-faced youth who engineers the elevator in the Lenox Hill Apartment-House confidentially told The Evening World reporter that he was going to sue a certain afternoon paper for $50,000 for asserting yesterday that he was making love to the pretty girl who one as the door when reporters ring ns the door when reporters ring the bell of Mrs. Stryker's apartments. TO MAKE IT SURE OF HEAVEN.

The Renson Given by an Insane Mother tor Killing Her Baby. IMPROVAL TO THE EVENING WORLD ! SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 18.-John Geer, of Buckingham Township, Wayne County, left his wife with the baby cooing in her lap as he went to work in the morning. When he returned at noon for dinner, the baby was in the cradle, and stretched out on the floor lay its mother, stone dead, with a hideous gash in her threat. When Geer looked at the baby he found that it had been also killed with a knife.

On the table was a letter for him from Mrs.

Geer, which said:

I thought I would kill the baby, because then it would go to heaven. If I do not do so, I would then not know what might become of it. You need not think it was anything you done that made me do this. I want my ring left on my finger, and I wish my baby laid in my arms and buried with me in the same casket. Mrs. Geer had never shown any symptoms of a disordered mind, but her terrible act evidently shows an affected brain.

Crazy Busch Again Boxed. About three weeks ago Charles H. Busch aged ffty-eight, escaped from Ward's Island Insane Asylum. He has been knocking about the city Asylum. He has been knocking about the city since, until last evening, when he was arrested at the Carlton House by Officer Westfall, of the Fourth Precinct. He was committed as insane on complaint of his sister-in-law, and also for his persistent annoyance in following members of the Astor family, with whom he claimed to be intimately acquainted. He will be returned to the asylum this morning.

Almany, Jan. 18.—Among the bills introduced in Trades' Assembly yesterday, to be presented the Legislature, was one prohibiting the employment of Pinkerton detectives by frailroad corporations, and one for the appointment of a State Board of Public Instruction, to consist of thirteen members, serving two years each, and whose duties shall include the furnishing of uniform text books in schools at cost price. The introducer of the latter bill said the State was at Fresent in the grasp of a great School-Book Trust. At Gattenburg To-Morrow. [SPECIAL TO THE SYENING WORLD.]

NORTH HUDSON DRIVING PARK, N. J., Jan.

18. -Here are the entries at Guttenburg for 18.—Here are the entries at Guttenburg for Saturday, Jan. 19:

First Race-Purse $200; three-quarters of a mile; for mandens. Melody, 110; Sylla, 110; Gilmer, 110; Broton, 110; Duke of Cherwell, 110; Delano, 110; Fashiomtte gelding, 100; Fiorine, 100 B.

Second Race-Purse $200; for maidens; three-quarters of a mile, Chambly, 110; Cocheco, 110; Fakir, 110; Hardship, 110; John Shaw, 110; Free Lame, 110; Skip, 100; My Nannie Ookt, 100; F.

Third Race-Purse $200; secon-sighths of a mile, 180; Wanderment, 120; Costella, 121; Marchal A.

121; February, Nankir Br., 111; Marchal A.

122; February, Nankir Br., 111; Marchal A.

123; February, Nankir Br., 111; Marchal A.

124; Formusk, 125; Wandorf, formerly Youghinghuny, Proposition, 105; Thurron, 105; M.

Fourth Race-Purse, $200; mile and an eighth, seli-ing allowances. Trueborn, 123; Henry B., 120; Traeurer, 120; Tyrone, 120; Jack Cocks, 114; Clay Pate, 108; Flash, 105; Harana, 105; Quincy, 105; Nita, 103; Berlin, 102 lb.

Fith Race-Purse $250; seven-eighths of a mile,—Annos, 115; Duke of Rourbon, 115; Alice, 113; Englewood, 112; Speedwell, 110; Cracksman, 100 lb.

2 O'CLOCK.

BUSCH'S ESCAPE

Rescued from Ward's Island by His Friends in a Launch.

The Astors' Crazy Butler Enjoys a Brief Spell of Freedom.

Caught in the Carleton House and Taken Back to the Asylum.

Charles H. Busch, formerly butler in the Astor family, was taken back this morning to his cell in the Ward's Island Insane Asylum, from which place he escaped nearly three weeks ago. Great reticence is manifested by the offi Busch was arrested at the Carlton House. corner of Frankfort and William streets, last night. The blotter at the police station says that Detective Parazzo, of the Central Office.

assisted Keeper James O'Reilly in making the arrest. Busch took his arrest very coolly and appeared to be rational on all subjects except n relation to the Astor family. Then he would rave about them. He was removed to Bellevue Hospital, and this the Thomas S. Brennan and taken to the morning at 7,30 o'clock was marched aboard island.

During his stay at Bellevue he was confined in Dr. Doughas's Pavilion.

At the Carlton House very little was known of Busch. He paid for his room regularly every day and never conversed with the clerk or any of the immates.

Ite used to go away early in the morning and return at night.

This incident will bring to mind Busch's antics while employed in the Astor family. Busch was a good butler and a real nicelooking old man. He is fifty-eight years of age.

looking old man. He is fifty-eight years of age.

He never discovered how good-looking he was until one day he fancied that he saw Miss Carrie Astor smile. Astonished, he proceeded to a mirror, where he surveyed himself. He discovered that he was indeed a devilish good-looking fellow, and thereafter he made toilst with remarkable care.

One day he made a most remarkable find. In his diseased imagination he discovered that Miss Astor was in love with him.

He was promptly discharged, but this did not deter him from annoying Miss Astor and her family. He was arrested, adjudged insane and sent to the Asylum on Ward's Island.

There he pined away for some time, but

There he pined away for some time, but gradually became so rational that he was al-lowed the freedom of the island.

It is one of the easiest things in the world to escape from Ward's Island. His escapades had passed from the public mind, but his friends, who are apparently friends indeed, did not forget him. One afternoon, about three weeks ago, he was taking his usual promenade along the river front.

Far down' the stream came a puffing little steam launch. Busch watched it intently as it touched the shore in a secluded place on the island.

Busch recognized friends and lesped aboard, Away went the tug again, with no one the wiser, and in a few minutes Busch was on his way to this city.

Such is the story of his escape as related to an Evening World reporter at Bellevue Hospital this morning. pital this morning.

The unusual haste in rushing Busch off to Ward's Island was probably done for the purpose of getting him out of reach of the THREE ARE HELD FOR RANSOM.

Additional Particulars of the Arab Attack on the German Missionaries. IBY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION. 1 London, Jan. 18. - Later despatches some what mitigate the horror of the first reports of the native attack on the German mission station at Tugu on Sunday, and it is now said that only four missionaries were murdered during the attack.

Three others, however, were carried off, and are now held for ransom by their cap ters, one of them being a woman. Two male missionaries escaped.

The German squadron has landed a detachment of marines to garrison Dar-es-

Is a Tobacco Trust Being Formed? LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.-A circular signed by thirteen of the largest tobacco manufacturers in the country yesterday addressed to the Louisville Tobacco-Dealers' Association an ultimatum demanding one uniform inspection for all warehouses here; that the date of sampling and name of shipper be placed on the tags of samples; the warehouse men be responsible in case the toocco is not so good as the samples, and that there be no bidding by warehouse men or their employees. The warehouse samples, and that there be no bidding by ware-house men or their employees. The warehouse men replied that they would not agree to these terms. The representatives of Liggett & Meyer, of St. Louis, and Lorillard, of New York, and a few others have not been at the auctions to-day or yesterday. It is said these great manu-facturers wish by their combinations to control this and other markets in the country. Look Out for a Cold Snap.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.

For Kastern New York mir: much colder:

Indicated by Blakely's tele-thermometer.
1880, 1888, 1

The Weather To-Day,

westerly winds.